ENDLESS POSSIBILITIES...

CHOOSING FOR YOURSELF!

Communication and Mobile Technology

What do you need to consider?

What is available?

Where do I get information?

When do I need assistance?

Who can help?

If you want to find out new ideas and try out equipment to help with communication and mobile technologies, then these workshops are for you

This workshop will focus on augmentative and alternative communication (AAC). We'll show many solutions including communication books, speech generating devices and mobile technologies with a variety of communication apps and software.

For people who find it difficult to use mobile technologies, this workshop will also show a range of accessories, switches and mounting options.

Come and find new ways to connect to the digital world!
